
JC CHARLES MEB

Hey
Bud, I had much to figure out at school. Take care of yourself.
Sorry
B

William,
I'm certainly glad you
were able to come back to
G.H.S. to graduate. Best of luck to a friend from grammar school.
Hal

William
I have enjoyed being in the home room with you this year. I always had a lot of fun whatever we did.
Best of luck in the future.
Mona

William
You, my boy, have been delightful in our ole math Class. Miss Hatfield said mathematicians done it this way. I'll be seeing ya'

Dedicated to a man and a woman who together give us a glimpse of how the future will treat us . . . who consider us a maturing youth instead of a child who must be reprimanded before he starts any mischief . . . who teach us to learn for ourselves by not pampering or consoling us . . . the duet and their pop tests with questions concerning infinitesimal details which carry us beneath the fine print . . . a couple whose dry wit leaves us astounded.

Dedicated to a woman whose interest in forensic work has brought a new field of extracurricular activities to us . . . the sophomore English teacher that breaks in, polishes, and produces our debating teams . . . the sponsor who supports our debators to the point of using all her spare time.

Dedicated to a man who has enlightened our understanding of why we're in school . . . a teacher whose way of teaching and whose interest in the pupil as a person makes us more conscious of our place in the world today.

Dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Blackwelder . . . to you our gratitude, respect, and admiration.

Induction into this society is based on outstanding work in the field of dramatics, whether it be on stage, back stage, or working on committees. Two initiation ceremonies are held annually, in January and in April. The members usually give small productions of one-act plays at intervals during the year and also are in charge of initiations.

Initiation into the National Forensic League is the goal which is strived for in public speaking. Membership in this organization requires that a student excel in the different phases of oratory. The League serves as executive committee, along with the other officers, of the Forensic Club. New members are inducted in the spring, and the old members sponsor their initiations.

Those who show outstanding achievement in the field of music are the ones who compose the Lyre Club. An honorary society, its members produce a show in which the initiates perform every year for assembly. A better understanding and development of musical ability forms the core of this society, and perfection in this field is what they are trying to attain.

A service organization sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, the Key Club undertakes many projects for the benefit of students during the year. They redecorated the old band building, entitled it the Key Hole, and opened it for dancing every day at lunch this past fall. The Four-Way Test, a program to promote right thinking, was completed in the spring. "We Serve" is the appropriate motto for this group of boys.

Starting out with a heavy schedule and ending up with an even bigger one, the CHS band has given its all this year. During the football season they were invited to play at Carolina's High School Band Day and received the honor of substituting for the University of Tennessee's band. This was the year for the Shrine Bowl Parade also, and Concord shone as one of the three bands which occupied the field at half-time. Marching in the Concord and Kannapolis Christmas parades, participating in the band contest, staging a band clinic for the high schools of North and South Carolina are only a few of the numerous tasks which this organization undertook. An institution at CHS, the Concord High Band does much to promote a background of music for our school.

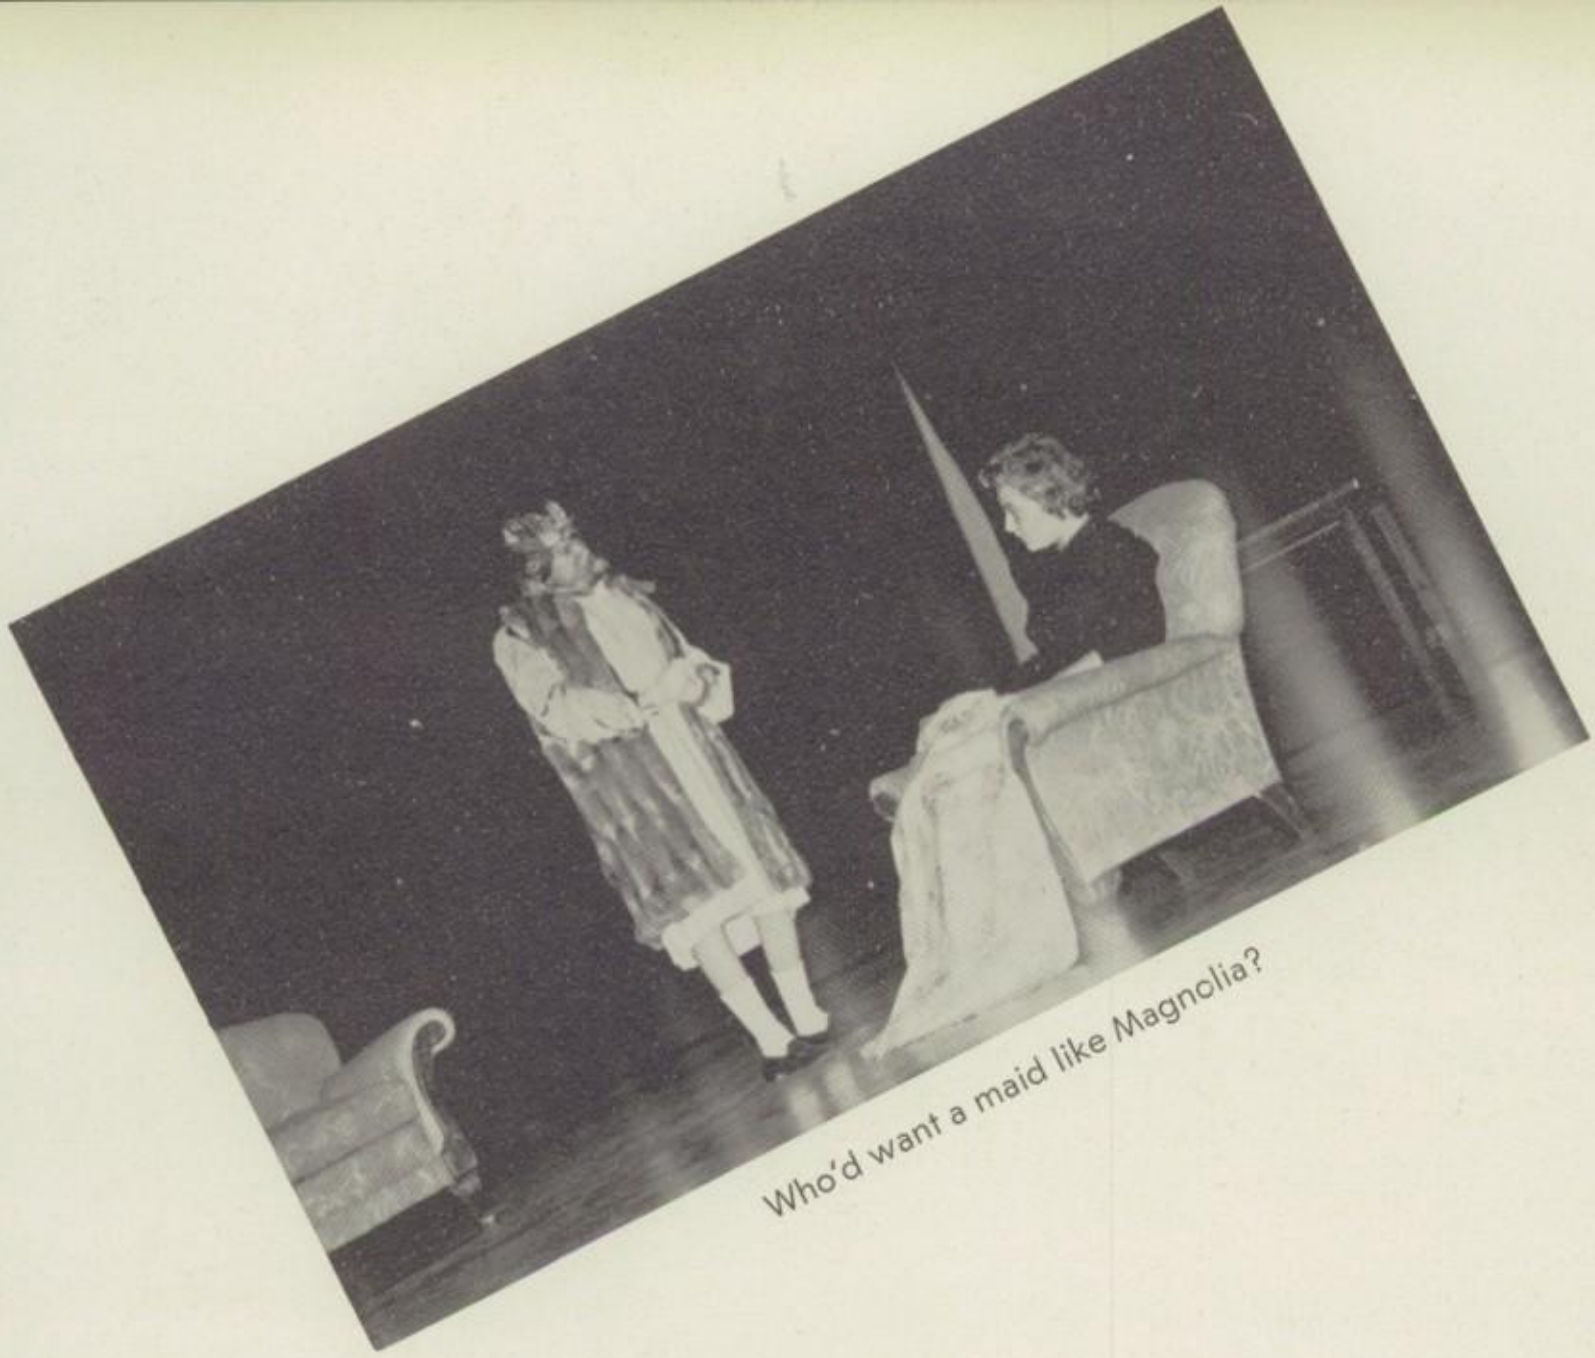
This organization, under the direction of Miss Blanche Stewart, is one of the most popular in school. They present two plays annually, the fall and mid-winter productions. This year they proposed a plan whereby all proceeds from the mid-winter productions would go to a fund for Webb Field, and, with the help of the CHSAA, it was followed through. Their purpose, to further the cause of dramatics and to give the students experience in this field, is one which they can be proud of attaining.



Who'd want a maid like Magnolia?

Bible Club — In God We Trust

Made up of members desirous of giving the Bible an active place in their school lives, this organization does much to help CHS. Each year, under the leadership of Miss Query, it presents a Thanksgiving, a Christmas, and an Easter program during assembly. These clubsters do much to promote the spirit of Christian fellowship throughout the school.

Editorials

Vive le Webb!

Since almost all of us have used Webb Field at one time or another, we thought that you, the students of CHS, might like to know the origin of the naming of our athletic department.

The football field for Concord High went under construction in the early 30's; the instigator of this new stadium was Mr. A. S. Webb, superintendent of schools at that time. Mr. Webb had played football for Duke University in his college days, and was a great sports enthusiast along with his occupation as superintendent. He encouraged the development of sports at Concord High, and got the ball rolling with his idea of the new stadium.

With its completion came the dedication, and with the dedication came the naming of our teams, annual, hand-book, newspaper, and the insignia of our class rings. Spiders, Spider Web, The Web, THE WEAVINGS, and all other subjects pertaining to entomology at CHS have stemmed from Mr. Webb.

The Dust Bowl

Each of you has at some time or other been on the dusty confines of what is called in polite circles Webb Field. The members of the football team and any other organization that has to use Webb Field for anything can testify that the dust from the unsodded field is enough to discourage any person from becoming a member of that group.

About a year ago a movement was started by some foresighted people in the city to try to improve Webb Field. An estimated cost of $51,000 was set as to what improvements should be needed. This would include tearing down the fe... between Webb and McAllister Fields, building W... up to a level with McAllister, cutting down the ... structing concrete stands, sodding the gri... run from what is now left field to M... very desperately needed clubhou... facilities for the Spiders an...

And this can be done more easily than one might realize.

It would involve building a new elementary school in South Concord. (This is already being considered). Then one of our present elementary schools would become a junior high school. This would take the load off CHS and at the same time offer a wider variety of subjects to the students of both schools.

The governing student body of Concord High, these members are elected by the Student Assembly. All school functions come under their supervision and management. They stage dances for the under and upper classes during the year and also present an annual dance with Kannapolis. The Student Assemblymen are under their jurisdiction, and they also are in charge of a student court. Their purpose, which is to keep order in the school, is well-stated and well-done.

Helping students learn more about the teaching profession is the purpose of this organization. Each year, the members teach as substitutes in a near-by elementary school; also, programs are presented which give the pupils a better insight into this field. This club, now a member of the National Education Association, has done much to help students who are interested in teaching.

Officers for 1955-1956 are Marian Weddington, President; Carolyn Midkiff, Vice President; Frances Hammond, Secretary; Judy Black, Treasurer; Betty Plott, Historian; Rebecca Dow, Senior Advisor; Mrs. Fisher, Faculty Advisor.

A group of girls who are interested in the field of nursing formed this club two years ago. Having progressed rapidly, they now work at the hospital at times during the year. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Fisher, the Future Nurses Club does much to help girls who are interested in nursing.

Rebecca Dow, Lynn Frazier, Frances Hammond, Ann Hartsell, Ruth Hasting, James Van Hooke, Anne Misenheimer, Beverly Newton, Barbara Shoe, Kay Shoe, Helen Staley, Nita Thacker, Mrs. Annie Lois Bulla.

Cafeteria Assistants — What's Cooking?

You can see the members of this organization diligently collecting menus and setting tables. They're the ones, along with Mrs. Bulla, who keep the cafeteria functioning. Their jobs are varied and many, but while they work and play, they learn the ways of the kitchen.

Library Assistants — Overdue?
5c Please

Checking the books, straightening card files, helping students locate certain literature are just some of the jobs which confront the Library Assistants. With the help and guidance of Mrs. Caldwell, our new Librarian, the members of this organization perform their valuable service to CHS. Want a book, need a bibliography, ask one of them. If anyone knows his books, it's these literary few. The Library Assistants for 1955-1956 are Janice Bean, Kay Roberts, Bobbie Shelton, Deon Gray, Ralph Barber, Harriet Cannon, and Bill Boger.

An organization under the sponsorship of Mr. Underwood, this club does much to encourage students in the field of public speaking. They instigated an inter-class debating program this year and also presented many interesting and educational forums which pertained to different types of oratory. In conjunction with the National Forensic League, this club seeks to serve the school by helping to make students better through better speaking.

An important organization, under the direction of Mrs. Bulla, the FHA does much to promote home management. Girls interested in this field are participating more and more in the club. Programs, presented by the members, are centered on topics dealing with home economics, and the girls attend meetings throughout the state during the year. Their motto, "Toward New Horizons," is one to inspire these girls all their lives.
